Hi to all Club Members

I don't know if growing older makes one revalue what is important in our lives. But when it comes to evaluating who our true friends are, a huge spectrum of life's experiences and relationships spring to mind. Mental pictures, memories, the good times and the sad times...

Over the years (just like you) I have met many good people and a few not so good.

However, as our memories and emotions become aroused, we begin to look outside the square at who and what has made our lives so pleasurable.

As I reflect upon life's pleasures and adversities, there are a number of individuals who are and have been very dear to me.

'Man's Best Friend'

Sami and Micky in Back Yard

June 2014 was a sad month for our family. Our lovely Sami girl, a white Maltese/West Highland cross passed away through illness. Tina and I shed tears together. Sami is, and always will be dearly missed. A little angel who loved and licked the faces of everyone she met. We are sure she is in Doggy Heaven. 'Love you Sami XX'

Don't forget folks, if you have something to say drop us a line, send an email. We'd love to hear from you.

POTTY PONDERISMS

Whenever I feel blue, I start breathing again.

All of us could take a lesson from the weather. It pays no attention to criticism.

In the 60's, people took acid to make the world weird. Now the world is weird and people take Prozac to make it normal.

How is it one careless match can start a bush fire, but it takes a whole box to start a campfire?

Who was the first person to look at a cow and say, "I think I'll squeeze these dangly things here, and drink whatever comes out?"

Who was the first person to say, "See that chicken there? I'm gonna eat the next thing that comes outta its bum."

Why is there a light in the fridge and not in the freezer?

If quizzes are quizzical, what are tests?

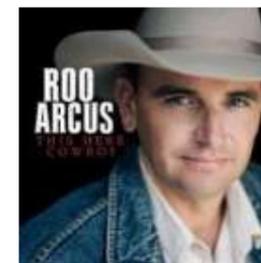

Do illiterate people get the full effect of Alphabet Soup?

Did you ever notice that when you blow in a dog's face, he gets mad at you, but when you take him on a car ride, he sticks his head out the window?

ROO OUT ON THE FARM

Singing Goulburn NSW farmer Roo Arcus sings for his supper when he raises cattle on his farm.

History is repeated for the folks who enjoy life in the country-slow-lane in his video for Out On The Farm on his second album This Here Cowboy.

Arcus struck gold early when late bush balladeer Slim Dusty recorded his tune Ringers, Rigs and Drivers for his trucking album Making A Mile. The song - written about a traffic jam when 13 road trains pulled into the Arcus family farm - also landed the singer-songwriter a 12-month stint as Slim's touring partner.

Touring as a support act with Slim and bandleader Rod Coe - enabled Roo Arcus to cut his 2000 debut album Station Boy.

It earned Roo two 2001 Golden Guitar nominations and predictions of a creative career that began on graduation from the inaugural 1997 Australian College of Country Music.

But that was more than a decade ago and a double disaster knocked the Goulburn gaucho out of the saddle. Arcus's mother was diagnosed with leukaemia in 2004 and a protracted drought decimated farms - including their Southern Tablelands family property. The severe drought added to the Arcus family pain.

And, unlike some lucky city slickers who can switch jobs at the drop of a hat, the Arcus clan toughed it out.
