

MORNING PORRIDGE

Baby bear goes downstairs, sits in his small chair at the table. He looks into his small bowl. It is empty.

'Who's been eating my porridge?' he squeaks.

Daddy Bear arrives at the big table and sits in his big chair. He looks into his big bowl and it is also empty.

'Who's been eating my porridge?!?' he roars.

Mummy Bear puts her head through the serving hatch from the kitchen and yells...

'For Goodness sake, how many times do I have to go through this with you?

It was Mummy Bear who got up first.

It was Mummy Bear who woke everyone in the house.

It was Mummy Bear who made the coffee.

It was Mummy Bear who unloaded the dishwasher from last night and put everything away.

It was Mummy Bear who swept the floor in the kitchen.

It was Mummy Bear who went out in the cold early morning air to fetch the newspaper and croissants.

It was Mummy Bear who set the damn table.

'It was Mummy Bear who walked the puppy dog, cleaned the cat's litter tray, gave them their food, and refilled their water.

'And now that you've decided to drag your sorry selves out of your warm bed and grace Mummy Bear with your grumpy presence...

Listen carefully, because I'm only going to say this once....

'I HAVEN'T MADE THE PORRIDGE YET!'

And they all lived happily ever after!

Proofreading!!!!!!

The young monk's first day.

He is assigned to helping the other monks in copying the old canons and laws of the church by hand.

He notices, however, that all of the monks are copying from copies, not from the original manuscript... So, the new monk goes to the head abbot to question this, pointing out that if someone made even a small error in the first copy, it would never be picked up! In fact, that error would be continued in all of the subsequent copies.

The head monk, says, 'We have been copying from the copies for centuries, but you make a good point, my son.'

He goes down into the dark caves underneath the monastery where the original manuscripts are held as archives in a locked vault that hasn't been opened for hundreds of years. Hours go by and nobody sees the old abbot.

So, the young monk gets worried and goes down to look for him. He sees him banging his head against the wall and wailing. "We missed the R!"

We missed the R!

We missed the R!

His forehead is all bruised and he is crying uncontrollably. The young monk asks the old abbot, 'What's wrong, father?'

With a choking voice, the old abbot replies, The word was...

KRIS TO VISIT OZ

American country music legend, Kris Kristofferson has announced an extensive Australian tour in March and April 2014.

On the back of the release of his new album Feeling Mortal, 77-year-old Kristofferson will travel across Australia in a tour bus performing in an intimate mode that will allow audiences to hear first hand the stories of his life on and off the road.

The Country Music Hall of Famer will be on guitar playing hits we all know and love such as: Me and Bobby McGee (recreated by Janis Joplin), Help Me Make it Through the Night, Sunday Morning Coming Down and For the Good Times.

Feeling Mortal, Kristofferson's 28th album, was recorded and produced with Don Was in only three days with stellar instrumental work from guitarist Mark Goldenberg, pedal steel master Greg Leisz, keyboardist Matt Rollins, violinist and vocalist Sara Watkins, bassist Sean Hurley and drummer Aaron Sterling.

Kristofferson says he is looking forward to be able to play for Australian fans from his new album:

"I am very much looking forward to heading down under to play to all of my Australian fans and taking in the beauty of the country as we tour far and wide.

To be able to play songs from my new album to my Aussie fans is a great privilege, along with all of my classics of course!"
