October President's Report

G'Day Members & Friends ,

Well here we are another month closer to Christmas. Our October show was another Great day with good numbers through the door, with our band Eddie & Friends. Eddie always plays the older style country music with a hint of new thrown in and that keeps the dance floor busy all day. Well done guys we had a great day. We also had a first time walk up, Kellie Anderson performed 3 songs and did a good job. Thanks Kellie. People are a bit confused about our J & S Quality Meat vouchers, the vouchers are for when you purchase $50 or more in meat, the voucher will take $20 off your total meat purchase. Well our November show will be another great day with Heartland, also a popular band with the dancers. I need to apologise to Fay Scone, she did not like having two birthday's in one year, Sorry Fay. So until then Keep it Country.

* The Man and his Music *

* Country Music At Its Best  Graham Rodger ***

Since resigning as a Queensland Ambulance Officer and becoming a fulltime professional entertainer, Graham has made a huge impact on the country music industry. His name has become synonymous with the writing and recording of high quality Australian ballads. Keeping Australia and Australians as the major themes for his ballads ensures that Graham will always uphold the traditions cemented into our culture by the late Slim Dusty. Slim was one of the many within the industry who acknowledged Graham's exceptional writing skills and was pleased on several occasions to record his material. One of the most notable was "You Can't Take Australia From Me". The message is in the ballad so impressed Slim that the family had Dick Smith recite it as a poem at his Funeral. Graham has always greatly appreciated this gesture and has never under-estimated this acknowledgement.

In 2012 on his eleventh album "Stronger For It All" Graham wrote and recorded the ballad "I Am". There is a line in this ballad which says 'I am the artists, poets and the scribes who keep our heritage alive. It is for this that we should be ever so grateful to Graham and his balladeers because it is they, who are keeping our history and traditions alive.

For centuries, right across the world, history has been handed down through the generations by story and song. Without these artists, as a nation, we lose our day to day contact with our past, and with no past we have no soul, and with no soul we have no future. In what he has penned, Graham has given us a window through which we can view the history of our people. He tells of monumental events and everyday occurrences, all of which blend together to make us what we are today.

Graham is an incredibly gifted entertainer with a highly developed natural flow and a result you only have to sit back and listen to one of his CD's or a live performance and you will fully appreciate the depth of this man's talents. The quality of Graham's voice is reflected in the numerous "Male Vocalist of the year" awards which he has won (these include five "People's Choice Awards" from Tamworth). The conviction and the emotion with which he sings his ballads are some of the tools he uses to whisk you away into his world. Like any good story teller he encapsulates you so you feel and live the story he is telling. If you are not into country music you may be asking "Who is this Graham Rodger?" So let me tell you a little about the achievements of this incredibly talented Australian Entertainer.

In 1998 as a full time entertainer Graham released his first album. In 19 years Graham has amassed 80 major country music awards, including Hands of Fame and Golden Guitars.

She competed in the Talent Quest at Burra CMF and came third with her Mum Michelle in the Open Duet. This young Girl had got a lot of talent to go a long way in the music industry. For someone who is only Ten years old at the moment and taking singing lessons to improve her skills. Well done Gemma. Well moving onto our January show with Palomino Deluxe, this will be another great day. So until then keep it country.

A LITTLE BIT COUNTRY

HOSTED BY GRAEME HUGO

26 JULY - 3 AUGUST EX ADL, 27 JULY - 3 AUGUST EX SYD

It's time again for a Little Bit of Country. Graeme Hugo loves nothing better than taking a group to Norfolk and this will be the 3rd year running he has joined A Little Bit Country. Two big shows from some of our favourite performers.

South Australia's favourite son is well known in Australian country music. On Norfolk as well as some fabulous group touring and dinners you'll love it when Graeme takes to the stage along with Rodney Vincent, Fortunato Isgro and Lucky Starr.

Rodney is a great all round entertainer with a very loyal following. Fortunato hails from Queensland where he has a very strong fan base who love his strong vocals and extensive musical repertoire. Lucky lives in NSW but is very well known in the Australian music industry, after all - he's been everywhere. They'll all be on Norfolk in July 2018 and Graeme would love you to join his group so he can show you why he loves this island destination and why he keeps returning.

The Fishermans Dream (or Lament) By Max Crispin

We left the big towns hustle and clatter, now there wasn't any great war,
Us seven kids and mother and father, we dumped the town and it's clatter;
We sailed all night over the foam, heading back to where we called home.
At dawn Port Linclon came into view, and we were off, to start our lives anew,
We drove all day in an open truck cold and shivering cursing our luck , Then after hazards and punctures many at last we reached home to Port Kenny;

Cold,tied and utterly trul spent we housed ourselves in an army tent, as weeks went by and we settled down got used to what we called Canvas Town; Early one morning with squid and line we rowed from shore in bright sunshine with a cloudless sky, and slight swell we hauld the fish, and filled our well;
That night the weather broke with rain and hail. We drove thru the storm with jig sail, it blew all the night, and at the breaking dawn we discovered our fish, loaded crate was gone;

We found it running with the tide, loaded it was hard, the waves to ride, but with grit, sail, and with oar we anchored our boat, and scrambled ashore. We loaded our fish as the sun went down and headed for the nearest fish market town.
One hundred and forty miles on a muddy track, with many a puncture before we got back. Many a happening may never be told, how the fish were caught and never sold. How they were auctioned without a bid and the contents condemned without lifting the lid;

I dream of the (drone) of a motor-boat and the days when I donned my oilskin coat, butthose days are long gone, never again to be. Yet I considered at least,
I was truly free. (Foot Note) the crate mentioned was a close slatted crate, about 8 foot X 6 foot X 3 foot, where the fish were held alive, until enough were caught to warrant a trip to the fish buyers, who in those days were hour's drive away

Graham Rodger's Tag – Along Tours

Graham in his own words explains the development of his tag-along tours.

In 2014 we were organising an outback tour. I was really keen to take good quality country music out to people living in very remote parts of Australia. As the word got out as to what we were doing I discovered there were other musicians and a considerable number of Australian country music fans keen on joining me, so the invitation went out for people wishing to join us. In May 2014 five musicians and 82 supporters took to their caravans as we meandered our way from Miles to Birdsville doing 13 shows along the way. It was voted such a huge success both by the travellers and the residents of the towns we visited that it was obviously something we had to do again. In 2015 I had 5 musicians and 95 caravaners join me as once again we started our adventure at Miles and over 4 weeks did 17 shows as we worked our way through outback Queensland and in to the Northern Territory, concluding our tour at Ross River, just out of Alice Springs. In 2016 we set off our third tag-along with 170 people in 85 vans. We started at Miles and over 3 weeks snaked our way through many of Queensland's tiny towns to end up at Innamincka in South Australia.

touches to our 4th tag-along, parts of South Australia, then northern NSW to end up at work involved in organising rewards for the outback musicians are quite incredible.

We are now putting the finishing starting at Swan Hill, through up to Broken Hill and across Lighting Ridge. There is a lot of a tour such as these, but the residents, tourist and the Several songs on my latest CD experiences gained during our 3rd tag-along to Innamincka. It is a unique concept and as far as I know no other artist has ever done anything quite like it. Fifty years ago Slim and Joy relished the opportunities to visit remote Australia and take their music to the people of the outback. It was their action that inspired me to do my outback country music tours, but I carried it one step further by turning it into a tag-along. I honestly think the tag-along outback concept is one of the best ideas I have ever had . This is the list of Graham's Albums. Territory Man  They Answered the Call **

As we all know things just don't happen, someone out there is working behind the scenes to make it happen. There is one man out there that attends most country music event in South Australia. He is Ian Fisk. Ian does a lot for Country Music in SA, and has done so for many years. He was involved with SACCM until it folded, and then with Country Music SA until it folded. Ian has taken thousands of photos from various venues around Australia. He also maintains a web site of his own with up to date Gig Guide information of every event that happens in South Australia. You will always see him willing to shoot people (with his camera of course) at every opportunity he gets. Ian also looks after our web site as we (the committee) are not computer friendly enough to do it. A big thank you to Ian for his help with our club web site.
