Howdy folks

House renovations have taken up most of my time this month; however, I have been involved in a PACT meeting along with Keven McGregor.

What is PACT? Still in its infancy, it is the Playford Arts Community Team. The team is to set up a cultural development strategy plan with delegates from other arts groups including Arts S.A.

The aims of the team are as follows.

- 1 To develop sustainability in arts excellence and community cultural development within the city.
- 2 To foster active cultural participation.
- 3 To create vehicles for community pride.
- 4 To build links between all people in the community, cultural organizations and community groups.
- 5 To stimulate the creation of an 'Arts City' within an arts region.
