

That Woz The Day That Woz!

John Turner & SaddleTramp with Solo artist David Croser

John Turner's clear singing voice, his ballads; and the music of SaddleTramp blended well.

'Seven Spanish Angels' and the skills of the lead guitarist featured strongly in the band's presentation. The only thing lacking was.... Smiles.....

Thanks guys for a good show, you played something for everyone from Slim Dusty to chunky Boot Scoot'n favourites. Our ever-faithful Mr Tambourine loved performing with you too....

The mellow voice and 'folksy-style' guitar playing of David Croser had everyone appreciating David's first solo set. 'Leave Him in the Long-yard, Proud to be a Farmer.'

Well done David, your professionalism and love for Country Music was evident in your performance.

Gawler Country Music Club takes pride in promoting and presenting 'Live Entertainment'... Entertainers with real talent. Real people who preserve the culture and skills of writing, playing and singing songs for a wide range of preferences in country music.

Some people love to dance, some love to sit and listen, some enjoy both.... One thing is for sure..... The club's membership numbers and renewal rate has never been so active.

Thanks to you, our club members, and thanks to the artists who perform live on stage each month, thanks to the Walk-Up artists and the committee....for your contributions towards our progress and success.

One Good Teddy Deserves Another!

Club members Cynthia and Robin Wasley have four reasons to be happy.

The first is that Robin today won a Giant Cuddly Teddy Bear in the Gawler CMC raffle draw.

Don't tell anyone.... He did quietly confide in me that he would rather cuddle Cynthia.

The second double surprise is that Cynthia is a compulsive knitter. She knits 'Trauma Teddies' for the Lyell McEwin Hospital, some are forwarded-onto the Women's & Children's Hospital.

Last year Cynthia knitted 120 teddies.

The third piece of news is that Cynthia is busy knitting Twin Teddies for her 'soon to arrive' Twin... Great, Great Nieces. Congratulations to all!

Well I'll be darned!

Q. What do Winnie the Pooh and Rupert the Bear have in common?

A. Their middle names.

Around the World in 31 Days

Since last months Gawler CMC (May) show much has happened in the world of walk up artist Peter Tomlinson.

At this months show he began by singing 'South of the Border' and 'Danka Shein'. He should have been singing 'I've Been Everywhere Man!'

Why?... You may ask...

At the Riverland Country Music Festival... Battle of the Buskers Competition... Peter won 2nd prize.

Another trophy to add to his collection.

Well done Peter. And for your regular walk up performances at Gawler CMC ... Danka Shein'.

It's a Small World

Have you ever experienced an event and then wondered, 'Was that just a coincidence?'

Club members Caroline and Iris... You know... The descendant of William the Conqueror... recently attended a family reunion.

The gathering of the Flavel family took place at Naracoorte with 90 people in attendance.

As secretary of the Flavel Family History Association Caroline has accepted responsibility for the safekeeping of historical documents and paintings etc...

Caroline took these as part of the family display, along with a painting she purchased many years ago. She explained how 30 years ago she and her Mother, Emma, were walking along North Terrace and stopped to look at some paintings. Mum had spotted a painting of Burnside School and remarked, 'That's the school that your father (William) attended.'

Caroline promptly bought the painting as a birthday gift for her father.

While sitting at the registration desk at the family gathering, a gentleman approached Caroline and asked 'Who owns this painting?' to which Caroline answered... 'I do.'

The gentleman, Brian Richards, told Caroline that he had painted this very picture more than 30 years ago.

And yes! Brian Richards also has connections with the Flavel Family, and he and Caroline had never met before this day.

Caroline goes on to say 'It's a small world isn't it!'

'Hey Caroline and Iris! Thanks for the good work you both do to raise funds for the Red Cross!' 'It is a small world, isn't it?'

A Horsey Tale

A Munno Para Bowling Club member is sitting reading the Gawler Country Music Club Newspaper when his wife sneaks up behind him and whacks him on the head with a frying pan.

"What was that for?" he says.

"That was for the piece of paper in your trouser pockets with the name Mary-Ellen written on it," she replies.

"Don't be daft," he explains, "Two weeks ago when I went to the races, Mary-Ellen was the name of one of the horses I bet on."

His wife seems satisfied and apologises.

Some time later he's again sitting in his chair reading, when she nails him with an even bigger frying pan, knocking him out cold.

When he comes around, he says, "What was that for?".....

"Your horse has just phoned."
