That Woz The Day That Woz!

Hey! What a great weekend it was at Gawler Country Music Club's Munno Para Venue.

Bowling clubs are normally quiet reserved places, but on this occasion Graeme Hugo and Ironbark had the bowling club really rockin!

Saturday night's Cabaret Show had a welcoming atmosphere, enhanced by the dimming of lights, melodic music and subtle vocal harmonies.

The talented members of Ironbark united to provide what was to be an extremely satisfying evening's entertainment. This is what Country is all About!

The Voices of Graeme Hugo and Kimberley Rodgers blended perfectly. Country fans and followers of the band are familiar with the talents of Graeme, and credit must also go to Kimberley who is a multi-talented singer, songwriter, bass and acoustic guitarist.

The drummer, lightening lead guitarist and harmonica player displayed their professionalism and gelled well together to create a perfect blend of song and sound.

The Wild Side of Life, I Can't Stop Loving You, Dance to My Ten Guitars, and Midnight Special had the dance floor packed, movin' and groovin'.

As the crowd warmed to the beat of the bass and drums, the once smooth gliding action of waltzers was pleasantly interrupted with a change of tempo. It was time for those with loads of energy to show everyone how it should be done!

We're now talking Rock 'n' Roll…… with a capital 'R'.

You must admit, there is no one better at Jiving than the teenagers of the 50's. The age of Teddy Boys 'n' Girls, The time when people wore drainpipe trouser, winkle picker shoes and bee hive hairstyles.

Malcolm modestly but proudly admitted, 'Yes I was a Teddy Boy.' Pam didn't admit to anything but she sure looked as though she was enjoying herself.

Sunday, saw the return of Graeme Hugo and Ironbark. The venue was packed out yet again. The daytime performance had a different atmosphere. It wasn't dark, but the line dancers were back in full force yet again.

The youngest line dancer present was Amity. She explained at length how she is still learning but with some practice she will soon be standing tall, just like the rest of them. Amity also confided that she is wearing a new pair of socks.

Words for Fun

A recent song with meaningful words particularly for sisters.

My Sister

Reba McEntire

Hey girl, it's me,
I just called to tell you hi
Call me when you get this
Haven't talked lately, so hard to find the time
Give the boys a big kiss
Tell them that I miss them
By the way, I miss you too

I was thinking just today
About how we used to play
Barbie dolls and make-up
Tea parties, dress up
I remember how we'd fight, make up, and laugh all night
Wish we were kids again
My sister, my friend

Oh yeah, before I forget, I met someone
I think I really like him
I was just wondering if I'm jumping the gun
By going out on a limb
And invite him home for Christmas
To meet the family

Seems like just yesterday
You brought home oh, what's his name
He had been drinkin'
What were you thinkin'
After dinner he passed out
We can laugh about it now
We've learned a lot since then
My sister, my friend

Do you think you could come and see me sometime soon?
We could just hang out like we used to It's late, and I should go
But I can't hang up the phone
Until I tell you
What I don't tell you enough of Even though at times it seemed
We were more like enemies
I'd do it all again
My sister, my friend
Oh my sister, my friend
