R.I.P. SLIM CONNOR A letter sent in by Leanne Moroney (Slim's daughter)

No words can express our appreciation for the support shown to us after the passing of "Slim". We would like to thank you and acknowledge the overwhelming generosity for the cards, letters, telephone calls, flowers and visits. Please accept this as our sincere thank you.

Gwen and Family.

Ma's Country Kitchen

Hi Everyone!

We have a new Ma in the kitchen!

I have taken over as the Old Ma w is getting a bit slack.

I hope you will enjoy!

Dixie Chicken

- 1.5kg Chicken thighs, skin removed
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 250g button mushrooms, sliced
- 4 rashers of rindless bacon, roughly chopped
- 420g can cream of mushroom soup
- 1/3 cup of light thickened cream
- Steamed rice and green beans to serve.

Preheat oven to 200c.
Place chicken into an 8 cup capacity ovenproof dish in a single layer.
Season with salt and pepper.
Heat oil and butter in a large fry pan over medium heat until sizzling.
Add mushrooms and bacon.
Cook, stirring for 3 to 4 minutes or until tender.
Add the soup and cream.
Stir until well combined.
Bring to boil.
Remove from heat.
Pour over chicken.
Bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes or until cooked through.

Serve with rice and beans.
Hint: If you don't use a full tub of cream at once it can be frozen. I put mine in small containers in the freezer.

If you have any recipes you would like to share with others, please just write it down on paper and give to one of the committee members, thank-you.

Scott Lamond who for the next few weeks is hosting Saturday Night Country, started working in radio while studying journalism back in 2002.

Over past years Scott has presented Saturday Breakfast; worked in the newsroom; produced Breakfast and Morning programs and has also had a lengthy stint working in the online department. But now Scott is at home with Country Music.

Scott spent much of his youth growing up in the small rural town of Kyogle in northern New South Wales. In his spare time he enjoys anything to do with sport, food and (No More) sleeping in on the weekend!

Brent Parlane

Brent Parlane will go down in Country Music history as John Nutting's very first artist to be played on Saturday Night Country.

Expatriate Kiwi singer-songwriter Brent Parlane, the son of an Air Force pilot, lived in London and Bangkok as a youngster before the family settled in New Zealand.

It was there he first tasted fame at 21 with his solo hit, 'I'm Looking Forward To Tonight.'

His career, spanning five decades, includes opening for 'The Eagles,' Eric Clapton, B.B King, Roxy Music, 'The Sweet' and Osibisa.

Brent moved to Australia in 1976 and then worked the Sydney circuit for about four years before heading south across the Murray Dixon line in 1980.

Since 1993 when Brent won the Golden Guitar for Best New Talent, he has racked up seven final nominations and four albums including the classic ABC album, "Tex Loves Daisy" in 1995.

His new album through Shoestring, 'Happy Note', is a powerful and intense piece of work by an artist at his peak.

Parlane characteristically pulls no punches and refuses to shy away from tough issues. Albums Through Shoestring include...

- "The Happy Note" Brent Parlane SR 43
- "Good Man Down " Brent Parlane SR 45
- "The Closest" Brent Parlane SR 43
